Love and Logic® Book Wins Mom’s Choice Award®

Golden, CO (March 24, 2008) - Parenting Children with Health Issues by Foster Cline, M.D., a well-known child psychiatrist and co-founder of Love and Logic, and Lisa Greene, a San Francisco Bay area mother of two children with cystic fibrosis, is a Mom’s Choice Awards Gold Recipient. This book teaches skills needed for effective parenting of children with serious health issues. Parenting healthy kids can be challenging, but it might seem easy compared to parents who have to raise one or more children with special health problems.

According to Lisa Greene, “Normal life and everyday parenting doesn’t prepare you for this situation. We pulled together many years of personal and clinical experience to identify the skills and knowledge necessary to help parents come up to their full potential especially when they are dealing with children with serious health disorders and illnesses.”

The book takes the powerful yet easy to use parenting techniques developed in Love and Logic and applies them to situations where children have special healthcare needs. The book offers up a veritable arsenal of tools to empower parents so that they know how to deal with difficult situations.

Parenting Children with Health Issues is available online at www.loveandlogic.com and by calling 800-338-4065.

The Love and Logic Institute is dedicated to making parenting and teaching fun and rewarding, instead of stressful and chaotic. They provide practical tools and techniques that help adults achieve respectful, healthy relationships with their children. All of their work is based on a psychologically sound parenting and teaching philosophy called Love and Logic. For more information visit www.loveandlogic.com.

The Mom’s Choice Awards is an annual awards competition that recognizes authors, inventors, companies, parents and others for their efforts in creating quality family-friendly media, products and services.
